

AN ANTICIMEX COMPANY

Date: 2nd May 2022

Media Release

Flick Anticimex strengthen its position in the Riverina region through the acquisition of Riverside Pest Management (“Riverside”)

Flick Anticimex continues its acquisition initiative in NSW. The acquisition of Riverside strengthens the local operations in the Riverina region of NSW, based in Deniliquin, especially within the residential termite and general pest services.

Riverside is currently led by Steve and Jess Butcher, who have been running the business for over 10 years. During this time Steve and Jess have grown the business to be a brand name with a strong reputation in Deniliquin and its surrounds.

Steve Butcher, Managing Director of Riverside Pest Management commented:

We are excited for the opportunity to join Flick Anticimex as it represents great opportunities for us and our team. We would like to thank our past and present team, as we wouldn't have built our business to where it is today without them. We look forward to offering our customers the same level of service and passion from our team, along with developing alternative and SMART pest control solutions as well as offering Flick Home Protection. I am very proud of the success that our family-owned business has achieved and look forward to the exciting opportunities ahead.

Shaun Coe, Regional General Manager – South Region, Flick Anticimex commented:

“I am very happy and enthusiastic about this merger as Riverside is a renowned and well-run business in the Riverina region, based in Deniliquin. We are all looking forward to working together with the Riverside team, as their culture of excellence toward employees and clients aligns naturally with the way we do things at Flick. Combining our decades of experience with the latest technological innovations will result in an even better customer service experience.”
